In direct defiance of the Kellogg Pact Hitlerism in Germany is extolling war as an instrument of national policy. The Locarno Treaty of mutual guarantee between Germany, Belgium, France, Britain, and Italy, was designed to "strengthen peace and security in Europe," and to provide "supplementary guarantees within the framework of the Covenant of the League." Mr. Baldwin recently declared that Britain held the Locarno pledges as sacred. But feeling is expressed in Britain now against the Locarno Treaty as a dead letter. The British dominions have never accepted its obligations, and it is demanded that the Empire shall be united on British policy. There is also a pronounced dislike, in the altered conditions to-day, of commitment to instant war in support of a demilitarised Rhine zone. The altered conditions are the relatively weaker British Navy and Air Force, the descrtion of the treaty by Germany, and the failing prestige of the League. Bronzed Battalions of The Surf.—This team of lifesavers is typical of the distinctively Australian surf clubs, which perform excellent social service in safeguarding the less-accomplished or too-venturesome swimmers. These physically splendid specimens of manhood and womanhood perform a purely voluntary service and their weekly carnivals and contests are a feature of Australia's surf beaches.

"City Of Laughing Loveliness."—From roof gardens such as this are unfolded the vagrant twists and turns of the world-famous Sydney Harbour. The mammoth bridge spans the harbour and links the city proper with the residential districts on the north shore. During November, 1934, Sydney's Festival Fortnight will lend even more of the carnival spirit to this gay city with its natural attractions of glorious surfing beaches, beautiful bushlands and delightful mountain in denesses.

"GENTLE MAIDENSY ROAST PIGS ALIVE

Sydney, N.S.W. A romantic page in Papuan life was revealed by Mr. C. L. Burlington, on his return to Sydney from the Territory where he has interests in gold, platinum, and sugar.

"The pig ends its days hung over a pole passed through its tied four feet. This pole is supported on cross-sticks, under which a fire is set going to the accompaniment of squeals from the roasting porker.

"Great enjoyment is thereby knused for the 'gentle' Papuan maidens. "When everything is ready to

The liner Ormonde, which are rived from London recently, could not move quickly enough for Mrs. Robert Alexander, aged 70, of Edinburgh, and when the liner berthed she could not talk quickly enough, for she was meeting her brother whom she had not seen for 44 years.

Her brother, Mr. Peter Thompson, of Woy Woy, recognised her immediately. He pointed her out to her five neices, one nephew, and five grandchildren whom she had never seen before. Mrs. Alexander came to Sydney first when she was a young girl. On that occasion she travelled by sailing ship.—Reuter.

The speedometer is a little thing, but can be a big source of wrong conclusions.

On a recent test, two cars of different makes, with speedometers set at 0 were given each two gallons of gas, and driven the same road will they stopped. The top car went 7 miles farther down the road than the low car, yet the low car's speedometer showed that it had gone farther than the top car Paper miles and road miles may be two quite different things.

It is easier to build a speedometer that will read 70 miles an hour than a car that will go 70 miles an hour.

. A Detroit man who has a summer home in Northern Michigan began several months ago to drive his first Ford V-8. He says:

"My watch tells me that I go up north in less time than I did before, but my Ford speedometer says that I go at slower speed, and the trip registers fewer miles. In my former car the speedometer speed was higher, my mileage greater on this trip, but with my Ford V-8 I go in less time and use less gas."

There is no mystery about that. His former mileage, speed and gas consumption were delusions. He figured by a speedometer that did not measure accurately, and was not meant to. All his costs---operations, repairs, upkeep--were calculated on a wrong basis. A wrong speedometer misleads on all these items.

Some car manufacturers justify this practice. They say it is just as well for a driver to think he is going 70 miles an hour when he is going only 62. Well, let that pass as to speed; does it justify telling every driver that he is getting more mileage out of his car than he really is? A speedometer measures speed AND mileage, should it cheat on both?

Speeding up a clock cannot create more hours any more than speeding up a speed-moter can create more miles. An hour is sixty minutes long. A mile is 5280 feet long. Ford mileago and Ford speed are accurately measured --- they are there---you get them----no one gets more.

Anyone can buy speedometers and have them "fixed" any way he wants them. W deal with manufacturers who know our strict stand on accuracy and are glad to meet our specifications. The limit of variation in Ford speedometers, a limit that cannot be avoided in manufacture, is 24 at 70 miles

We get our speed and mileage out of our engine and wheels, not out of our speedometer.
